

Bake-off field card: walking round

Run both apps the whole round: Bake-off K (teal icon) and Bake-off T (orange icon). Keep using golf-tracker as usual. The Bake-off apps only record GPS and never touch your round.

On your phone, before the first tee

1. Open Bake-off K (teal). Under BEFORE YOU START every row should read OK. The Samsung row shows --, which is expected.
2. Tap the big green START. It turns red and reads HOLD TO STOP, and RECORDING appears under it.
3. Open Bake-off T (orange) and tap the green START. It turns red and reads HOLD TO STOP.
4. Swipe down the notification shade. You should see Bake-off K recording and Bake-off T recording.
5. Open golf-tracker and play as usual. Lock the phone and pocket it.

If START will not start in either app, leave that app alone, keep playing, and tell me which one afterwards.

During the round

- Do not open either Bake-off app.
- Do not swipe them out of recent apps or force-stop them.
- Use the phone normally: golf-tracker, music, texts.
- If a Bake-off notification disappears, do not restart the app. Note the hole. That is data.
- If the battery gets low, golf-tracker comes first: stop both Bake-off apps (steps 6 and 7). Battery use with both running has not been measured yet.

On your phone, after the last hole

6. Open Bake-off K. Press and hold the red HOLD TO STOP for about 2 seconds. It reads KEEP HOLDING... and then turns green START. Scroll down and tap EXPORT ALL TO DOWNLOADS, then wait for "Exported ... files to Download/golf-bakeoff/K".
7. Open Bake-off T and do the same: hold HOLD TO STOP until it turns green, tap EXPORT ALL TO DOWNLOADS, and wait for "Exported ... files to Download/golf-bakeoff/T".

On your phone, back at the desktop

8. Settings → Security and privacy → Auto Blocker → Off.
9. Unlock the phone and plug it into the desktop.
10. Tell me "pull".

I pull the data, score K against T, and send you the result. Then I prompt you to turn Auto Blocker back on.